

In This Season

In this season, we worship the One who is the Life of all life...

In whose image we have been made.

In this season, we wait for the One who is the Truth of all truth...

Who comes to set us free.

In this season, we seek the One who is the Radiance of all light...

Who draws us deeper into the Mystery.

In this season, we lift up our hearts...

We lift them up to the Lord.
